Gyptone®

Reflecting everyday life

Shops and shopping centres

Experience is probably the most important word when designing a business or shopping centre. It must be nice and inviting and the products one sells must be presented in rooms that are simple and elegant, but also take into consideration acoustics and noise which arise when many people are gathered in one place.

Light is another important factor in product display.

Gyptone ceiling tiles can be installed with for example built-in lights, speakers, vents etc. In comparison to other ceiling products Gypsum tiles can withstand a high load no matter whether the tiles are perforated with patterns or not.

Each Gyptone tile can take up to 3 kg of concentrated and centred load. If components weigh more they have to be separately supported or hung from wires.

On www.gyptone.com/funktion/egenskaber/baereevne you will find the precise information and details necessary to design ceilings for businesses and shopping centres.
