Reflecting everyday life
Hotels and restaurants

Hotels and restaurants can be peaceful retreats, kinds of homes away from home when on a trip, or places for having a special dinner or other experience in style and elegance and they can also play a central role in one’s future, either business or private.

With Gyptone one has the possibility to design ceilings and walls in big open receptions, restaurants and stairways, but there are also solutions for long corridors where simple and easy access to hidden installations is a must.

There are a lot of people every day in hotels and restaurants and daily maintenance must be simple and easy. The most important information about durability, cleaning and painting can be found on www.gyptone.com/driftogvedligehold
